Compliance without loss

Faced with increasing information security threats, this organization found themselves needing to comply with new insurance requirements.

Challenge:

With established and productive technical solutions already deployed, new security standards threatened existing processes, efficiencies, and investments.

- Stability concerns resulting from increase in system complexity
- Risk of elevated staff turnover due to increased workflow friction
- Uncertainty if imposed deadlines could be met

Solution:

Knowing that both is possible, vibrant planned and oversaw deployment of modernized security practices which respected existing processes and investments.

- Coordination with insurance and organizational stakeholders
- Staged solution providing short term coverage and long-term compliance
- Staff communication deliverables and training resources

Impact:

In addition to the additive benefits of security – transformative results were also achieved in the information technology department.

- Simplified system operation and maintenance workflows
- Reduced time to recovery in event of system failures
- Increased system availability through function compartmentalization
